The purpose of this research is to find out and analyze the role of notaries in distributing heirs' rights and to find out and analyze the responsibilities of notaries in resolving heirs' rights problems. The research method used in this research is empirical research, namely research using field data as the main data source, such as the results of interviews and observations. The data analysis technique used is carried out by collecting data through the results of interviews submitted and library materials or secondary data which includes primary legal materials and tertiary legal materials in the form of documents and applicable laws and regulations. The results of the research reveal that regulating the rights of Notary heirs is an important thing for people's lives, so that the behavior and actions of Notaries in carrying out their professional positions are vulnerable to abuse that can be detrimental to society, so it is very necessary to carry out guidance and supervision of notaries, regarding the responsibilities of Notaries. Notaries has a very big responsibility in making the inheritance certificate deed. And the Notary must be careful in making a deed because the Notary must take full responsibility based on the law if the deed, he makes causes losses to the parties. Suggestions given by the author for notaries in carrying out every deed they must prioritize the common interest rather than the interests of one party, so that the existence of each party is not ignored and obtains a balanced position while reducing disputes between heirs. Meanwhile, the Notary must have proper control in making the deed regarding the duties and authority of the notary as an authentic deed maker
